

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

FOURTH ANNUAL MEETING

United Daughters of the Confederacy.

BALTIMORE, MD., Nov. 10, 1897.

The Fourth Annual Convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy met in Lehman's Hall, at 10:30 A.M.

Mrs. D. Giraud Wright, First Vice-president of the Association, called the meeting to order. In the absence of the President, Mrs. Fitzhugh Lee, who was detained at home on account of sickness, the First Vice-president presided during the entire Convention.

Proceedings were opened by the Rev. Wm. M. Dame, D.D., in a most eloquent prayer.

Mrs. D. Giraud Wright, President of the Baltimore Chapter, and First Vice-president of the Association, welcomed the Convention to Baltimore in the following beautiful and appropriate style:

Daughters of the Confederacy: In the name of the women of Maryland, I welcome you to Baltimore.

Thirty-six years ago the State of Maryland sent twenty thousand of her sons to battle for the South. They were the flower of her chivalry, the bravest knights in the noblest quest that ever fired the heart of cavalier. And the women of Maryland, who welcome you to-day, watched them, with streaming eyes and hands outstretched in blessing, as they went forth across the bright waters of the Potomac into the shadows on the other side, where the storm cloud of battle received them, and the cruel darkness hid them from view. Then, without a murmur, the weary steps turned homeward to the desolate hearth, to watch and wait. How many of those sons and brothers came back to those watching hearts? In the record of the suffering of our women during those awful years of the war, no words can adequately tell what the women of Maryland endured. How strong, then, must have been the love which yielded up such an awful sacrifice; how deep the sympathy with a cause, when the best beloved were laid upon the altar; how warm the welcome accorded to you now, our sisters, with one love, one sorrow, one memory!

Across the waste of years the voices of our loved ones call to us. They have called you together here on this mission of love and duty, and, in response, you come from prairied fields and jasmine gardens and magnolia groves, in answer to this resistless appeal.

Maryland greets her sister States with warmest welcome, and bids them God-speed in their noble work.

We call our dear cause the "Lost Cause," and, as such, we love it, as only women love, in sorrow and defeat; but no cause results in utter failure which has left such a precious legacy of heroism to a people. In every record made of noble deed; in every poem penned in praise of the prowess of our soldiers; in every monument reared to perpetuate their glory, we prove, beyond dispute, that their work lives after them. We point our young men and our maidens to higher aims than the sordid things of earth, and teach them that life itself is nothing worth, compared to priceless honor and principle.

We stand before the world to-day a band of women, consecrated, set apart, our work defined; as Daughters of the Confederacy, we live to honor the memory of our heroes. Our thoughts are with the past and all it means to us. The busy throngs, passing to and fro, observe us with a curious gaze; they may not comprehend us, but, at least, they give to us that passive sympathy accorded of old to another sorrowing one beside her beloved dead, saying of us, as of her: "Let her alone; 'she goeth to the grave to weep there.'"

Again, across the waste of years the voices of our loved ones call to us, and as we hearken, time fades; the years with their burdens drop away, and we stand once more amid the places and the people of our youth. We see, as in a vision, what was surely the fairest land that ever held a people's love—a land crowned with stately homes radiant with a gracious hospitality; men, brave, gentle, and courteous, the models for all time of a dauntless chivalry; women whose tender beauty was but the setting to the jewel of modesty and all womanly grace; and over this bright land brooded the white dove of peace, with happiness, content, and prosperity in her wings. This was our old South—the South of our love. Shall we forget her? Nay, this shall remain with us as an everlasting memory which no man may take from us. This, at least, we have left to us amid the changes and the chances of this mortal life. While it is to-day let us make our work so abiding that, when we are called hence and rest from our labors, time itself cannot undo what we have done. Let us make it so complete that long after we shall have passed away, when the children of this land of ours shall gather at the twilight hour around the mother's knee and plead for stories of heroes and heroic deed, there shall be no need to turn to Rome or Greece, to Agincourt or Hastings, for fitting tale to thrill their young hearts. Let them turn the historic pages of our own dear land, and by the light of the camp fires of our soldiers and to the music of their marches over hill and vale, let them choose from a list so long that tongue and pen would fail to tell and read the story of the knightly deeds of the heroes of our South.

The address of welcome was charmingly responded to by Mrs. Augustine T. Smythe, of Charleston, S. C., Second Vice-president of the Association, in the following words:

It is a source of pride to me that I have been selected to respond to the kind and graceful welcome we have just received. I only regret that the choice did not fall on one more practiced, who could better have voiced our feeling. However, I surely speak truly for all in saying that nowhere would we enjoy and value more a hearty welcome, and nowhere could we get one warmer or heartier. Baltimore is dear to us for many reasons. Since the days when the pathetic strains of "Maryland, My Maryland" first sounded in our ears, there has been an element almost of romance in the feeling of Southerners for this beautiful city. At the close of the war, when our hearts seemed breaking and our heads were bowed in grief, from this place and the generous hands of its people came the first help and encouragement that saved many Southern women from despair and made life again seem possible to them. It is thus peculiarly pleasant and appropriate that, as a body of Confederate women, we should meet together here in consultation as to how best we can honor and perpetuate the memory of those wonderful years in our history, and of the brave men and women whose courage and endurance made the glory of those years. Therefore, in the name of the many here gathered, I thank you, the Confederate women of Baltimore, for your hospitable welcome, and hope that, whatever may be the work of our meeting here, it may all be done in the spirit of—to quote the words of the time-honored Masonic Ritual—"a band of friends among whom no contention should ever exist, but that noble contention, or rather emulation, of who can best work and best agree."

Mrs. J. D. Beale, President of the Cradle of the Confederacy Chapter, of Montgomery, Ala., then presented the Convention with a gavel, in the following beautiful words:

Madam President: In behalf of the Cradle of the Confederacy, Chapter 94, of Montgomery, Ala., Alabama Division of the Daughters of the Confederacy, I have the honor of presenting to you this gavel, inlaid with memories of our cherished martyr President, together with admiration of his statesmanship and virtues of Christian manhood. From the heart of the oak of "Beauvoir" a message comes to you from the "Lost Cause." As love would carve dear names upon a tree, so would we inscribe upon this the names of those Presidents who have so honorably served us since the first assembling of this association, and also of those who shall serve us as the years come and go. The wood of which this gavel is made was given to me last spring by Mrs. General Joseph R. Davis, a niece of our loved President, when we visited, together, "Beauvoir," the grand old home, owned and occupied by Mr. Davis and his family for many years, where his book, "The Rise and Fall of the Confederate Government," was written. I must again express to you the pleasure it gives me to place it in the safe-keeping of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

On completion of the presentation the Convention accepted the gavel by a unanimous rising vote of thanks; whereupon the presiding officer took charge of it, and used it during the sitting of the Convention.

The chair then announced the following Committee on Credentials: Mrs. E. G. Weed, of Florida, chairman; Mrs. Thomas Taylor, of South Carolina, and Mrs. C. A. Forney, of Arkansas.

The Secretary then read the Minutes of the 1896 Convention, which were, without objection, approved.

The chair then suggested, as a courtesy to the Grand Division of Virginia, that it be admitted to the Convention, which suggestion was approved by a rising vote.

Mrs. Wm. A. Smoot, of Alexandria, Va., chairman of the joint conference committee, then submitted the report of the action of the joint committee, which report carried with it the papers formulated by the two separate committees, and which are as follows:

RESOLUTIONS PASSED BY THE CONVENTION OF THE UNITED DAUGHTERS OF THE CONFEDERACY, AT NASHVILLE, TENN., NOVEMBER 11, 1896.

Whereas we are impressed with the importance of perfect union and accord among all women engaged in work ennobled by the name "Confederate," and whereas the Grand Division of Virginia has offered to coöperate with us, and has agreed to revise its Constitution, bringing it into conformity with that of the United Daughters of the Confederacy; therefore be it Resolved, 1. That, if so desired, the Grand Division, in joining us, preserve its organization intact, the United Daughters of the Confederacy recognizing two divisions in Virginia, the First Division and the Grand Division, so long as it is the desire of the majority of the Chapters to remain apart.

2. That, as these Chapters have already paid for charters in the Grand Division, no fee be required of them for charters issued by the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

3. That the Chapters make application through their Presidents for charters admitting them into the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

4. That it is the unanimous wish of this Convention to have our sisters of the Grand Division join us, and that, whenever they shall decide to do so, they are assured of a hearty and loving welcome from the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

5. That for further negotiation, if needful, the President of the Grand Division be requested to appoint a committee to confer with a committee from the United Daughters of the Confederacy, the latter to report at the next Convention.

MRS. WM. A. SMOOT, Alexandria, Va., Chairman;
MRS. J. P. HICKMAN, Nashville, Tenn., Secretary;
MRS. C. A. FORNEY, Arkansas;
MISS MARY A. SMITH, Warrenton, Va.;
MISS M. RUTHERFORD, Athens, Ga.,
Committee.

The Committee of the Grand Division, Daughters of the Confederacy in Virginia, to the Committee of the United Daughters of the Confederacy:

The resolutions passed at the Convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, at Nashville, Tenn., November 11, 1896, on the subject of the offer made by the Grand Division, Daughters of the Confederacy in Virginia, to join the United Daughters of the Confederacy, were laid before the Grand Division at its annual Convention in Alexandria, Va., on April 22, 1897, having previously been sent to every Chapter forming the Grand Division, that they might freely and fully discuss the subject, and that their delegates might be made acquainted with the wishes of the Chapters.

As these resolutions, though most friendly and courteous, did not conform to the offer made at Richmond, Va., July 1, 1896, when it was the unanimous vote of every Chapter to join the United Daughters of the Confederacy as a Grand Division, and not by separate Chapters, the vote was again taken in Alexandria, April 22, 1897, by Chapters, and it was again the unanimous vote "to join only as a Grand Division, and on the same terms" as before stated—viz.: those on which the Grand Camp of Virginia, Confederate Veterans, was admitted to the United Confederate Veterans.

This decision was reached after fifteen months of deliberation on the subject, as the plan most conducive to the interests and continued success of the Grand Division, Daughters of the Confederacy in Virginia. It was moved, and unanimously carried, that a committee be appointed from the Grand Division, Daughters of the Confederacy in Virginia, to confer with the committee of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, which will report to the Convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, which meets in Baltimore in November next, and also that the offer of the Grand Division, Daughters of the Confederacy in Virginia, be repeated on the same terms, as the offer was not laid before the Nashville Convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy in proper form, and was apparently misinterpreted by it and by the committee appointed by it to draw up the resolutions, the time and place for meeting of the committees to be decided upon later.

MRS. JAMES MERCER GARNETT, ex officio;
MRS. A. D. ESTILL, Lexington, Va.;
MRS. N. V. RANDOLPH, Richmond, Va.;
MRS. H. M. M'ILHENNY, Staunton, Va.;
MRS. J. N. BARNEY, Fredericksburg, Va.;
MRS. SYLVIA MEREDITH, Manassas, Va.,
Committee.

Mrs. Robert T. Meade, Petersburg, Va., alternate for any of the above ladies.

OFFICIAL.

To the Committee of the Grand Division of Daughters of the Confederacy in Virginia:

The committee from the United Daughters of the Confederacy, appointed to negotiate in the matter of union with the Grand Division of the Daughters of the Confederacy in Virginia, are in receipt of the communication notifying them of the result of the late meeting in Alexandria, Va., at which meeting it was decided by the Grand Division to reject the terms stated in the resolutions passed at Nashville, November 11, 1896, and to adhere to their own "offer" of terms as formulated at Richmond and forwarded to the Convention at Nashville.

This committee begs to express regret that the Grand Division should have so decided, the terms of the resolutions as passed at Nashville being most liberal, and embodying every concession which it was deemed possible to make, consistent with the dignity of that body and the well-being of the association.

We would say to the members of the committee of the Grand Division of Daughters of the Confederacy in Virginia that we shall be glad to meet with them and have a full discussion of this matter, and will apprise them of the time and place of meeting at the earliest opportunity.

In the meantime we would urge them to consider that, as their offer of terms, if agreed to by the United Daughters of the Confederacy, would necessitate the setting aside of the United Constitution in various important points, and the establishing thereby of a precedent which other State organizations might with reason claim the benefit of, it is possible that the offer may not meet with a favorable reception from the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

In this event, we would recommend that your committee be empowered, or instructed, by the Grand Division, to formulate terms which may meet the approval of both associations, so that the matter be not further delayed, but that, on the contrary, union may be speedily effected.

Respectfully submitted.

MRS. W. A. SMOOT, Chairman;
MRS. JOHN P. HICKMAN, Secretary;
MRS. C. A. FORNEY,
MISS M. RUTHERFORD,
MISS M. A. SMITH,

Committee.

AMENDMENTS MADE TO THE FORMER RESOLUTIONS OF THE GRAND DIVISION OF VIRGINIA TO THE UNITED DAUGHTERS OF THE CONFEDERACY.

Recognizing the necessity of deciding this matter of union at once, and to prevent further delay, the Chapters composing the Grand Division have recently called meetings and agreed to the following amendments, believing that it is best that each Chapter shall have equal rights and representation in the United Daughters of the Confederacy Conventions:

1. Though no mention was made in the offer of the Grand Division to "amend its Constitution and bring it into conformity with that of the United Daughters of the Confederacy" (no material difference being considered to exist between the two), yet, in order to have in every State exactly the same rules for admission to this society, the Grand Division is willing to substitute, in place of its membership clause, that of the United Daughters of the Confederacy as being more explicit. The application blanks of the Grand Division are sufficiently explicit, need no change, and will continue to be used.

2. Though entering the United Daughters of the Confederacy in a body, the Chapters agree to pay the ten cents tax required of all members of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, thus obtaining equal rights with other Chapters. This tax is to be paid in addition to their own tax to Chapter and State, so that the Virginia treasury be not lessened by the tax to the United Daughters of the Confederacy. The five resolutions of the United Daughters of the Confederacy Convention to the Grand Division of Virginia concerning its offer of union are accepted. [(1) Recognizing Grand Division intact; (2) charters issued free; (3) Chapters applying for charters through their Presidents; (4) desire for the Grand Division to unite with the United Daughters of the Confederacy at any time; (5) the President of the Grand Division requested to appoint a committee to confer with the United Daughters of the Confederacy committee.] The Grand Division retains its Constitution, save for the amendment in the membership clause, as stated above; also its right, based on the first Chapter in the State, to continue to establish other Chapters for the United Daughters of the Confederacy, which will pay taxes thereto. These Chapters will still be chartered by the Grand Division until such time as the two Divisions in Virginia shall agree to be one and the same, when all the Chapters will be under one government in the State. "Each Chapter shall" continue to "judge of the qualifications of its own members," as heretofore. (See Article III., Section 2, Constitution of the Grand Division.)

Three Chapters of the Grand Division have not yet agreed to the above amendments—Bethel, No. 2, Newport News; Roanoke, No. 4, and Middleburg, No. 34—though retaining their places in the Grand Division, which has now on its roll thirty-seven Chapters, less three withdrawn; but these are included in Virginia, and number in all about two thousand members.

MRS. JAMES MERCER GARNETT,
Chairman of the Grand Division Committee;
MRS. W. A. SMOOT,

Chairman of the United Daughters of the Confederacy Committee.

These four papers constitute the report of the United Daughters of the Confederacy committee on union with the Grand Division of Virginia, as submitted by the Chairman of that committee at the United Daughters of the Confederacy Convention, in Baltimore, November 10, 1897, with the recommendation that, as the Grand Division had accepted the resolutions admitting them to the United association, they be extended a welcome from that association to the ranks of the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

MRS. W. A. SMOOT, Chairman.

The action of the joint committees was adopted by a rising vote, and Mrs. Edwin H. O'Brien, of Alexandria, Va., President of the Virginia Division, in a few feeling words, cordially welcomed the Grand Division to membership.

The State Divisions, and Chapters in States where no Division exists, then submitted their reports, which are as follows :

ALABAMA.

The Alabama Division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy was organized in the city of Montgomery, April 8, 1897. The Charter Chapter, located at Camden, Miss Sallie Jones, President, issued the call for the Convention. Eight Chapters, numbering in all four hundred members, were represented—Camden, Selma, Auburn, Tuscaloosa, Birmingham, two in Montgomery, and Eufaula.

The Convention was delightfully harmonious, and the two Chapters of Montgomery verified the world-famed hospitality of the old South. A decided impetus was given to the cause throughout the State, as was indicated by numerous letters to the President, desiring information for forming Chapters. The intense heat of the summer, causing some of our best workers to leave the crowded cities, followed by quarantine against various infectious diseases, has greatly retarded the work in the few months since the Convention.

Our delegates in Convention voted that we, as a Division, would endeavor to purchase the house in Montgomery called "the first White House of the Confederacy," occupied by President Davis and his family during the first few months after his inauguration, and use it for the preservation of Confederate relics that are now being collected from all portions of the State. We wish also to assist in the erection of a monument, in Mobile, to Admiral Semmes. We also wish to accomplish, as Division work, in the near future, the erection of a Confederate home for disabled Alabama veterans.

Our Convention was fully alive to the importance of raising the requisite amount needed to secure the very liberal offer of Mr. Rouss, feeling assured that the erection of the Battle Abbey will be the most effectual method of commemorating the memory of our Confederate dead.

February 18, the day on which President Davis was inaugurated, was selected as the date for our annual meeting in Convention. Our next will be held in Birmingham, February 18, 1898.

Having been notified that this report must be confined strictly to Division work, I am debarred the pleasure of giving reports from each Chapter in their labor of love.

Alabama assures her sister States of her full sympathy and loving coöperation in the work pertaining to the history of the Confederacy, the amelioration of the condition of disabled Confederate veterans, and the building of monuments to preserve the sacred memories of our dear "Lost Cause."

Respectfully submitted.

MISS SALLIE JONES,

President Alabama Division, United Daughters of the Confederacy.

ARKANSAS.

Madam President and Daughters of the Confederacy: The far-off State of Arkansas sends greetings. It is my pleasure, as well as my privilege, to meet with you again in Convention; and I am happy to know that we are a united body of earnest workers, striving to bring peace and comfort to the old and helpless, and to commemorate the memory of those who have "passed over the river."

I am happy to report that Arkansas now has eight earnest and flourishing Chapters, as follows: Pat Cleburne, No. 31, Hope; Little Rock Memorial, No. 48, Little Rock; Hot Springs, No. 80, Hot Springs; Mary Lee, No. 84, Van Buren; Stonewall Jackson, No. 97, Prescott; Mildred Lee, No. 98, Fayetteville; Winnie Davis, No. 122, Mammoth Spring; and Sidney Johnston, No. 135, Batesville. I have encouraging reports from all sections of the State, and feel confident a number of additional Chapters will be formed during 1898.

The Chapters already formed have done noble work in assisting the feeble, contributing to Confederate monuments, and making liberal donations to the South's Memorial Institute.

Respectfully submitted.

MRS. C. A. FORNEY,
President State Division.

DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

The Anna Stonewall Jackson Chapter, of Washington City, struggles for existence under the shadow of an administration not at all in sympathy with such organizations. Many of its original members have been compelled to withdraw from the Chapter, intimidated by a rumor that no one would be retained in the service of the Government who was a member or coöperated in the promotion of such societies. There are here many Southern ladies, themselves dependent, or their husbands, on Government positions, which, rather than forfeit or jeopardize, have withheld further identification with the Daughters of the Confederacy. The Chapter now numbers a membership of thirty, with two recent deaths of devoted workers.

Respectfully submitted.

MRS. ALICE PICKETT AKERS,
Secretary.

FLORIDA.

United Daughters of the Confederacy: Being somewhat unused to conventions and their customs, I asked one of the Baltimore officers what I would have to do. Her answer was definite, but not very reassuring. She said: "Say as little as you can, and say it as quickly as you can. You will be allowed ten minutes, but all will be well pleased if you only take five." I will do my best to keep within the limits.

The full and thorough reports of our Recording Secretary at the last annual meeting of our Florida organizations leaves me little to say to-day. We are glad, however, to report two more Chapters added to the five reported last year, giving Florida, now, seven Chapters, as follows: Martha Reid, No. 19, Jacksonville; Stonewall Jackson, No. 47, Lake City; The Dickison, No. 56, Ocala; Brooksville, No. 71, Brooksville; Palatka, No. 76, Palatka; Mary Ann Williams, No. 133, Sanford; Tampa, No. 113, Tampa.

There are two more Chapters partly organized—at Gainesville and Pensacola; but, owing to the disturbed condition of the South and the rigid quarantine against yellow fever, many have been kept away from their homes, and the work has been greatly retarded.

At the last annual meeting of the Florida Division, the Chapters all pledged themselves to the erection of a monument at Winchester, Va., on the battle field where many Florida soldiers gave up their lives and found a resting place in Virginia soil. They also pledged themselves to erecting a shaft to mark the battle field of Olustee, a Florida battle field, and one of the bloodiest battles of the war.

These pledges are being rapidly fulfilled, and much of the money has already been sent in, showing the earnestness of the faithful hearts who have undertaken the work.

One matter that came up before our Division and was earnestly and strongly discussed, and which, I think, must be a matter of interest to every Southern-born man and woman, was the securing of proper school histories to place in the schools where our children are being educated. It is a very serious thing, and one that Southern mothers and fathers must see to. We must send our children on their life way learned in the history of the past, and ready to give a reason for the faith that is in them. The future demands it of us, the past demands it of us, and the present must not fail. Do not, my dear sisters, let our children in the future reproach us for their ignorance of all that we hold so dear.

Recognizing the necessity of going to the very root of the matter, the Daughters of the Confederacy in Florida, after much effort, have succeeded in getting a bill introduced in the Florida Legislature instructing the school boards to see to it that the histories used in our public schools are true and reliable, giving honor where honor is due, and training up our children in the knowledge of true Southern history. If all the other Divisions will take the same stand, we may hope for a better state of things than now exists.

I have had brought to my house many marred pages of the histories used in Southern schools, blotted and marked out by the indignant little Southerners, who refused to believe the reports of the "great four-years' war."

Florida has made many valuable contributions to the Confederate Museum at Richmond, through our valued and much loved Regent, Mrs. F. P. Fleming, who has done great work in that line.

Respectfully submitted.

MRS. E. G. WEED,
President Florida Division.

GEORGIA.

Daughters of the Confederacy: Georgia greets you to-day in the persons of many of her Daughters who have come with happy hearts from all parts of our grand old Commonwealth; happy to visit this beautiful city, rich in historic associations; happy to meet the noble women who comprise this grand assembly; and thrice happy to tell you that in Georgia the fires of patriotism burn brightly, as of yore, and, inspired by the hallowed memories of the past, the Daughters of our State are rapidly progressing toward the attainment of those objects so dear to every true child of the South. For the great success attending upon our efforts during the past year too much praise cannot be given my beloved predecessor in office, Mrs. Ida Evans Eve, who, by her earnestness, zeal, and sympathetic leadership, has been eminently successful in the discharge of every responsibility. Chiefly through her efforts we have this year organized ten new Chapters in Georgia, giving us a total of twenty-four, while several more are in process of organization, and promise at an early date to be perfected.

Each Chapter of our Division is engaged in the prosecution of some local work, benevolent, educational, or memorial; but all have united in an effort to secure, by legislative enactment, the introduction of true histories in our State schools. Realizing that we may build monuments of marble and stone, but that in the hearts of our children are tablets more lasting than brass, we would grave there that their fathers were patriots and honorable men, whose cause was a just and righteous cause; that, though their sires be dead, their principles can never die; that they were the defenders of constitutional liberty, and the principles for which they strove are those which will eventually light the world to freedom and to peace.

Within the coming year we expect renewed inspiration from the presence in our capital city of those welcome guests, the surviving heroes of the Confederacy, in annual reunion; a vast army yet, but—alas!—growing smaller each year, while the bowed forms and whitening locks of its soldiery warn us that not long may we do them honor on this side the river. The warmer, then, the welcome we would give them now, and warmly would we welcome every Daughter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. Will you not come to us, then, during the period of reunion, and by your presence brighten that time in the lives of our veterans? Remember, the gates of the Empire State of the South stand ever open to the Daughters of the Confederacy, and when you come, all Georgia, from the green slopes of Chickamauga to the banks of the sun-kissed Savannah, will bid you welcome; and every Georgia Daughter will rejoice to welcome with you that other Grand Division of women of Virginia, who for so long, with the same high purpose as yourselves, have journeyed toward the same goal, and henceforth under your banner will strive with you for justice and perpetuity of honor to those heroes of our Southland who, with a steadfast courage this world hath not equaled, have writ in the annals of history a record which dims the lustre of Thermopylae, while it lights with imperishable glory and crowns, as with a halo, the enduring fame of that Southern race “whose Jefferson first voiced the declaration of human rights, whose Washington first made it good with his immoderate sword, and who themselves, of all the nations of the earth, first gave constitutional freedom to men on their own Southern soil at Yorktown.”

KENTUCKY.

The Charter Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy of Kentucky, located at Lexington, holding charter No. 12 and numbering one hundred and sixty members, herewith submits the report of the State.

The first purpose of the Lexington Chapter is to assist the wives and children of unfortunate Confederate soldiers, to erect monuments over "our dead," which have too long been neglected, and to assist the monument fund of Confederate prisoners buried in Northern graves. The Charter Chapter will call a meeting, this month, of all Chapters in the State, for the purpose of organizing a State Division, after which we hope to do more efficient work. .

Richmond Chapter, No. 85, has a membership of more than fifty, and hopes to do much good in assisting the families of exconfederate soldiers.

Virginia Hanson Chapter, No. 90, situated at Winchester, and numbering eighteen members, has undertaken to erect a monument over its Confederate dead, and will work during the coming winter with that end in view.

Ben Hardin Helm Chapter, No. 126, of Elizabethtown, with Mrs. Ben Hardin Helm as President, has been organized this past year, and, though small in numbers, is much interested in the work before it, and hopes to double its membership during the coming year.

Albert Sidney Johnston Chapter, No. 120, situated at Louisville, has a large membership, and we are, in consequence, expecting much good work from this Chapter.

President Charter Chapter.

LOUISIANA.

Since the organization of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, Louisiana has suffered from two great drawbacks—the high water and the yellow fever. There are only three Chapters in the State—Winnie Davis Chapter, at Berwick City; New Orleans Chapter, at New Orleans; and Gordon Chapter, at Opelousas.

Winnie Davis Chapter, at Berwick City, being the Charter Chapter, makes a short report. The Chapters of our State are more interested in the Battle Abbey movement than anything else, and are working to secure that building for New Orleans. Our women are very much in earnest, and hope soon to form other Chapters and a State Division. As soon as this is done we will begin active work, and hope by the meeting of the next Convention to be able to report substantial results.

Respectfully submitted

MISS JOSIE C. PARKER,
Secretary Berwick City Chapter

MARYLAND.

The Daughters of the Confederacy in the State of Maryland (Baltimore Chapter, No. 8, United Daughters of the Confederacy) have had a year full of interest and work. There has been a large increase in members, there being now five hundred and thirty-three members, and daily new applications for admission.

The work of the society has included social meetings, where deep interest was shown in the reading of historical papers giving accounts of deeds of valor performed by our soldiers in battle, by our women in home and hospital, and filled with details of the daily life of our people during the war, of great value to the historian of that time.

Our charities have formed no small feature in the work of the year, and have been dispensed with as liberal a hand as our resources would permit.

Memorial Day was celebrated with increased interest and feeling, a larger attendance than usual manifesting the fact that the Confederate soldier is still remembered by his comrades and the women of the State.

While honoring our dead, we are no less mindful of the living and their needs. In answer to the appeal of the Society of the Army and Navy of the Confederate States in Maryland to aid them in raising a fund to provide for indigent Confederates in the State, the Daughters of the Confederacy have responded, and a bazaar of gigantic proportions is now in process of organization under their auspices, to be held in April, 1898. This promises to be one of the greatest efforts, as it is probably the last, to be made in behalf of this noble work.

Two Chapters have been formed in the State—one in Bel Air, Harford County, and the other in Harford County. The Charter Chapter will call a Convention to organize a State Division in the near future.

These are the only counties, so far, requesting separate charters, most of the members from the counties desiring direct connection with the Baltimore Chapter, which, being in Baltimore, the natural center of all Confederate interest in the State, offers so many privileges and advantages to its members.

The Daughters of the Confederacy in the State of Maryland point with honorable pride to the phenomenal growth of their organization, and shall always hope to vie in friendly rivalry with her sister States in the upbuilding of a work so dear to the hearts of us all.

LOUISE WIGFALL WRIGHT,
President.

MISSISSIPPI.

Mississippi wheels into line as a Division of the grand corps of true and faithful workers in the deathless cause, hallowed by saintly memories and baptized in true hearts' blood. The first State Convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy of Mississippi, in response to a call from Winnie Davis Chapter, the Charter Chapter of the State, was held in Meridian, April 27, 1897, for the purpose of organizing a State Division, with President Daisy W. Weems in the chair. The gavel used on this occasion was made from a stately magnolia from "Beauvoir," the home of the beloved, lamented, and only President of the Confederacy, Jefferson Davis. Representatives from more Chapters than are required to form a Division were in attendance, and gratifyingly successful was the accomplishment of the work undertaken. All praise is due to the brave, patriotic women of the Winnie Davis, the pioneer Chapter in our midst. Untiring were their efforts, and the spark of their enthusiasm, so brightly burning, has kindled the beacon torch which shall inflame the whole State with this purpose, and from the ashes of forgetfulness uncover the warmth in a glow of love for bygone deeds of heroes. Success has crowned the efforts of the noble Daughters of the Confederacy, foremost of whom I shall mention the names of Mrs. Ernest George (recently removed from our State to adopt our neighbor, Louisiana, as her home), the first President, and Mrs. Daisy W. Weems, the present and second President of Winnie Davis Chapter. Since our report, at the Nashville Convention, of three regularly organized Chapters, I have great pleasure in the addition of five others, now zealous and flourishing.

The late panic resulting from yellow fever, principally in our State, Louisiana, and Alabama, has retarded the work and made meager our report of what would otherwise have been most creditable efforts.

I beg leave to submit this appropriately with these lines of greeting, written by Mrs. Josie F. Cappleman, President of Okolona Chapter and Corresponding Secretary of Mississippi Division:

OKOLONA CHAPTER TO THE NATIONAL UNITED DAUGHTERS OF THE CONFEDERACY.

Greeting, daughters of the Southland,
Who meet and mourn to-day,
And commemorate the heroes
Who fell while in the fray.
Greeting, fair Confederate sisters
Of a sacred cause, and dear;
We send you love, well-wishes,
God-speed, and goodly cheer.

We clasp your hands in kindness,
We bless your faces bright,
And heart to heart we meet you—
We, too, have fought the fight.
Where Forrest led in battle,
Where our flag no longer waves—
O'er this burg a thousand brave ones
Lie in their lonely graves.

And we're striving, daily striving,
Amid our many needs,
In stone to fitting honor
The dead and all their deeds.
'Tis this we willing work for,
For this we wish and wait;
But, toiling, we forget not
Our sisters of the State.

For we are bound together
By the strongest cause and ties
That ever linked the loyal
Beneath the Southern skies.
Aye, our hearts are in the action,
Our souls are in the trust,
And we'll work and win together
Till dust returns to dust.

Again we give you greeting,
And our sorrow, friends, is great,
With the U. D. C.'s thus gathered,
To not participate.
Our love and prayers are wafted
To all our sisters true;
A happy, helpful meeting,
Is our heartfelt wish for you.

I voice Mississippi Daughters in this beautiful expression of good comradeship.

Obediently yours,

ANNIE WRIGHT DUNCAN,
President.

MISSOURI.

To the United Daughters of the Confederacy: As President of Margaret A. E. McLure Chapter, which is the Charter Chapter of the State, I submit the following meager report on the workings of the United Daughters of the Confederacy in the State of Missouri:

Missouri now has four Chapters, as follows: Margaret A. E. McLure,

No. 119, St Louis; Liberty, No. 147, Liberty; Richmond Grays, No. 148, Fayette; Kansas City, No. 149, Kansas City.

The Chapters above mentioned were all recently formed—that is, have been recently admitted to the United association, and therefore can report but little work in connection therewith. However, the members of the Chapters are very enthusiastic, and I have no doubt will do noble work in your organization. The Charter Chapter will in a short while call a meeting of the several Chapters and form a State Division. After this is done, we will proceed at once with the work of organizing new Chapters, and get ourselves in condition to alleviate our distressed soldiers and their families.

Our Chapters are very much interested in the purchase of “Beauvoir,” and will do their part toward it.

Very respectfully,

MRS. B. S. ROBERT,
President Charter Chapter of Missouri.

NEW YORK.

In March, 1896, a few ladies met, by agreement, at the residence of Mrs. E. S. Gaillard, in order to discuss the advisability of bringing the largely scattered Southern elements in New York more directly in communication with each other. The ladies present were strongly in favor of founding some society which strangers in New York, recently from the South, could join, a society in which they would meet old friends and form new ones. The loneliness of the mass of Southern women in New York appealed strongly to the founders of this movement. Many families from the South were known to be living here in isolation, and it was with a view of ending this condition of affairs that this Chapter was founded.

From insufficient knowledge of the work of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, this Chapter was first known by the name of “The New York Order of Confederate Women.” At the second meeting, however, held at the house of Mrs. Thomas R. Price, it was moved and seconded that the society become incorporated with the United Daughters of the Confederacy. At the third meeting this change in the Constitution was ratified.

The New York Chapter now numbers a hundred and forty-three members and forty-five associate members. The associate members are gentlemen who are in sympathy with the objects of the Chapter. They attend only the social meetings, but at these they form a welcome and important element.

This Chapter attended in a body the unveiling of the Confederate monument at Mt. Hope Cemetery, and the subsequent reception of the Confederate veterans on May 22, 1897.

All cases of need among Southerners have been cared for as reported.

The Chapter will send $50 to the Jefferson Davis fund in March of this year. It has had the pleasure of contributing its mite toward the beautiful memorial window placed in St. Paul's Church, Richmond, Va., to the memory of Mr. Davis, and it has in contemplation the gift of a memorial window to the memory of Generals Lee and Jackson, to be placed in St. John's Church, Fort Hamilton. This is the church in which our two beloved soldiers took, each, his first communion. The window is French, and is divided into two sections, so that each memorial will be distinct.

It is also under consideration by this Chapter to found a Chapter in Brooklyn and one in Harlem. Our next report will inform you more fully in regard to this.

Respectfully submitted.

MARY E. GAILLARD.

NORTH CAROLINA.

To the United Daughters of the Confederacy: I beg to submit the following:

Since my last report we have had organized two new Chapters in North Carolina—one in Asheville and one in Vance County—making six in all. In April last a Convention was called and a State Division organized, officers elected, and a Constitution submitted for adoption.

On October 13 we held our first regular State Convention. The Constitution, based on that of the general association, was adopted without change, and the officers, with the exception of two who declined renomination, were reelected. In order to facilitate our work in the State, we have a Vice President in each Chapter, ranking in the order of the organization of the Chapters. The State membership is now two hundred and seventy-five, with a State vote of one.

All the Chapters seem interested and in earnest in the work they have undertaken, and have, in addition to observing appropriately Memorial Day and January 19 (General Lee's birthday), cared for the Confederate veterans in their midst, particularly needy invalids, and have marked the graves of those Confederate soldiers who have died during the year. Each Chapter has also, as means would permit, assisted in objects interesting to the whole organization—viz., the Jefferson Davis monument fund, the Memorial Institute, the Winchester monument, the Davis memorial window in Richmond, and marking the graves of Southern soldiers who died in Northern prisons.

All are interested in the teaching of true Southern history, and in the collection and preservation of Confederate relics and local history. There have been the utmost harmony and good feeling between all the Chapters, and I hope the foundation is laid for future work worthy of the cause which we remember, and creditable both to the State and to our whole organization.

Respectfully submitted.

MRS. WM. M. PARSLEY,
President North Carolina Division.

SOUTH CAROLINA.

In behalf of the South Carolina Division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, the following annual report is respectfully submitted:

At the annual meeting in Nashville the South Carolina Division reported, through its President, twelve Chapters organized and in active operation, as follows: Charleston, Charleston; Wade Hampton, Columbia; Marion, Marion; Greenville, Greenville; Abbeville, Abbeville; Mary Ann Bowie, Johnston; Spartanburg, Spartanburg; Sumter, Sumter; Cheraw, Cheraw; Maxey Gregg, Edgefield; Arthur Manigault, Georgetown; Ellison Capers, Florence; Edisto Island, Edisto Island; Edgefield, and Darlington. The last three Chapters, though organized, were not reported at Nashville.

Since the last report of our Division the following Chapters have been duly organized: Edward Croft, Aiken; Robert E. Lee, Anderson; Ann White, Rock Hill; Drayton Rutherford, Newberry.

I have the honor to report that all the Chapters of the Division are actively at work, and a patriotic interest is everywhere manifested in the preservation of the history of our people in its honored integrity.

A recent review of Goldwin Smith's popular school history by an ex-Confederate has brought this important subject before the Southern reading public. I make a few extracts from the criticisms of an ex-Confederate to give emphasis to the whole subject. The extracts will abundantly justify the reference I here make to the study of Confederate history. I quote from the pamphlet of the ex-Confederate:

"The United States History which to-day enjoys the widest circulation and the highest fame is the recent work of Goldwin Smith, Doctor of Canon Law and Professor of the Humanities, Toronto, Canada."

"South Carolina, he says, made her start by combining buccaneering with slave owning, and utilized her ports by making them a shelter for pirates and corsairs such as Captain Kidd and Blackbeard."

"Georgia he deals with more leniently. Her people were not distinctly criminal, but just languidly and lazily vicious, shiftless, drunken, and beggarly."

"But Virginia seems to be his especial aversion. . . . 'Her first settlers were an unpromising lot—lackeys, beggars, broken-down gentlemen, tapsters out of a job. . . . To the crew of vagabonds were afterwards added jail birds. . . . Convicts were offered their choice between Virginia and the gallows, and some were wise enough to choose the gallows.'"

Treating of the Confederate war, the pamphlet of an ex-Confederate makes the following extracts, taken at random from the history he is criticising:

"Jefferson Davis, when captured, was farcically disguised in woman's clothes."

"Slaveholders escaped military service, while they thrust the poor under fire."

"Confederate soldiers were well fed and suffered no hardships. . . . If many of them died, it was because the caged eagle dies."

"Guards pressed men in the streets of Southern cities, and conscripts were seen going to Lee's army in chains."

"The Southern clergy were not only ignorant, but cringing and degraded."

"At the taking of Fort Pillow the negroes were nailed to logs and burned alive."

The preservation of a people's history in its integrity is the commemoration of a people's character. While cultivating a sincere patriotism for our reunited country, with unfaltering devotion we cherish and hold dear to our hearts the memories and the traditions of the Confederacy of Southern States.

No nation rose so white and fair,
Or fell so free of crimes.

A practical matter of much importance to our organization is the matter of securing a good representation of the Chapters at the annual Conventions. In order to secure such a representation, I will recommend to our Division that each Chapter shall pay the traveling expenses of one delegate to each annual Convention. This will secure a proper representation at our annual Conventions, and, through such a representation, greatly increase the interest and the work of our organization.

Regretting that my health deprives me of the honor and pleasure of attending the Convention in person, and wishing you a successful session, with assurances of warmest esteem, I respectfully submit my report.

CHARLOTTE PALMER CAPERS,

President.

TENNESSEE.

To the Officers and Representatives of the United Daughters of the Confederacy: I was elected President of the Tennessee Division only a few days before your meeting in Baltimore, and hence had no time to prepare and present any formal report of the work done in this State since the meeting in Nashville, in November, 1896.

It is a matter of infinite pleasure to me to report, informally, that the various Chapters in this State are in a healthy and harmonious condition, and well organized for effective work in promoting the patriotic purposes for which our association was designed.

All are spirited in their determination to gather and collate all material facts possible, to the end that the truth may be vindicated in connection with the history of the heroic struggle for constitutional freedom fought by husbands, fathers, sons, and brothers in the war between the States. They intend to see to it that treason is not made odious as attached to their names, but that the battles of freemen for the cause of freedom are made glorious in the eyes of coming generations.

They intend to see, also, if they can prevent it, that no honorable Confederate soldier shall become a tramp or beg the hesitant bread of a reluctant charity from the unsympathizing.

Each Chapter is doing a noble and generous work along this line. It is reflected in a splendid Confederate Soldiers' Home and in other commendable ways.

I append the number and names of the Chapters in this State: Nashville, No. 1, Nashville; Jackson, No. 5, Jackson; Clarke, No. 13, Gallatin; Franklin, No. 14, Franklin; South Pittsburg, No. 15, South Pittsburg; Zollicoffer-Fulton, No. 16, Fayetteville; Maury County, No. 42, Columbia; Chattanooga, No. 81, Chattanooga; Knoxville, No. 89, Knoxville; Murfreesboro, No. 91, Murfreesboro; Shelbyville, No. 102, Shelbyville; Shiloh, No. 106, Memphis; Sarah Law, No. 110, Memphis; Lewisburg, No. 111, Lewisburg.

In conclusion, permit me to say that since my election as President the preliminary steps for the organization of Chapters at Lebanon, Hartsville, Trenton, and other points have been taken, and that by your next meeting I hope the number of Chapters in this State will be doubled.

MRS. S. F. WILSON,

President.

The Secretary also presented the following communication from Tennessee, being a loving tribute from Mrs. M. C. Goodlett, who was the first President of the United Daughters of the Confederacy:

To the Daughters of the Confederacy now in session at Baltimore: When our annual meeting of the Daughters of the Confederacy met in Nashville last year and decided to meet in the beautiful city of Baltimore this year, I promised myself the pleasure of meeting you there; but a great sorrow has come into my life that has left me powerless to continue the work that heretofore has been such a labor of love. Since the first day that the thought came into my mind to organize all bodies of Confederate women into one united sisterhood, I have worked without ceasing to accomplish it; and now that we number one hundred and fifty-two Chapters, I feel that I have not labored in vain; and I now commend the work to your loving hands, feeling sure that each of you is as much interested in the work as I have always been, and trust that no jealousies or dissensions may spring up between the Confederate Daughters in the different sections of the South where our organizations exist, but that we may ever be a united band of sisters, working for a common purpose: that of honoring the brave men and women who sacrificed their "all" on the altar of liberty. Let us not forget that we, too, had a grand army, the grandest on record—an army that gave Manassas to Beauregard and twined the fame of the Seven Pines battle in the laurel wreath of Johnston, that caused the waters of the Shenandoah eternally to murmur the name of Stonewall Jackson, and, stretching out its arms to the far West, planted victory on the drooping banners of Bragg; and when fame shall sound her final trumpet, summoning earth's heroes to pass before her in grand review, that she may choose her bodyguard of immortals, and "a gray-bearded man in an old slouch hat" will lead the van and marshal the battallions; while he who on Shiloh's bloody plains poured forth his lifeblood, a rich oblation on his country's altar, will lead the right; while on the left, with head oft-bared and eyes uplifted, will ride the man who stood "a wall" of strength, "gainst which the advancing tides of battle broke in vain." When the grand review is over, when the drum has beat its last tattoo and the squadrons are mustered out to their quarters, this band of immortals

On fame's eternal camping ground
Their silent tents will spread,
While glory walks with solemn round
The bivouac of the dead.

TEXAS.

Madam President and Sister United Daughters of the Confederacy: The Lone Star State sends greetings to the United Daughters of the Confederacy from every State. How proud and happy I am to-day to bring you this Texas greeting! For I feel as if I bring you words of cheer from every Southern State. The name Texas is "Tehas"—"welcome;" and in the dark days of bloody war, and in the darker days of reconstruction, her broad and fertile prairies spoke "welcome" to the refugees from every Southern State; so it is the "welcome" of the old Texans and the Confederates from these States that I bring you greeting.

We are proud of our glorious State, with its great history of valor and bravery, and think the "Lone Star" glitters with unusual brilliancy in the constellation of States that twinkle in the "Stars and Stripes." We wonder not that she is called the "Lone Star;" for she, and she only, has served under six flags, and added luster to all. Each point of the star represents a flag: the one, France; the other, Spain; the third is draped in crape for the tyranny of Mexico; the fourth glitters with the "Bonny Blue Flag," which she voluntarily laid down to place the "Stars and Stripes" on the fifth point. The "Lone Star" had her heart, and on it, though torn and bleeding, we will place the years of 1861-65; for then every heart throb and loving impulse were for the "Stars and Bars," so loved, yet furled forever; but now the "Stars and Stripes" float over the grand old State, and the "Lone Star" is glittering in the flag of our nation. So you see my pride when I bring you a Texas greeting and a "God bless you" in your work.

Sixteen Chapters answer the "roll of honor" in Texas, and from the report of our State Secretary, Mrs. Sampson, you can see the rapid progress they have made in all work pertaining to our noble cause.

Very respectfully,

KATIE CABELL CURRIE,
President Texas Division.

For the year 1897 the Texas Division has sixteen Chapters, although only thirteen have reported. These thirteen aggregate a membership of one thousand and twenty-nine. Eight Chapters have been organized this year. Two Chapters—namely, those of Dallas and Sherman—have erected monuments, the Dallas monument being valued at $16,000. Five more are raising money for a like purpose.

The Confederate Museum in Richmond, Va., has been contributed to, also the Jefferson Davis and Memorial Hall funds; and the needy veterans and their families in the several localities of the Chapters have been cared for. There has been no distinctive Division work.

Respectfully submitted.

MRS. SARAH FONTAINE SAMPSON,
Secretary Texas Division United Daughters of the Confederacy.

VIRGINIA.

To the United Daughters of the Confederacy: We now have in the State of Virginia twenty-one Chapters, numbering over one thousand members—some quite small, some very large, but each doing its own work with the same steady perseverance so characteristic of Virginians. The Chapters are named for heroic men, noble women, renowned commands, and celebrated localities, and are as follows: Mary Curtis Lee, No. 7, Alexandria; Black Horse, No. 9, Warrenton; Kirkwood Otey, No. 10, Lynchburg; Appomattox, No. 11, West Appomattox; Pickett-Buchanan, No. 21, Norfolk; Portsmouth, No. 30, Portsmouth; Shenandoah, No. 32, Woodstock; Seventeenth Virginia Regiment, No. 41, Alexandria; Eastern Shore, No. 52, Cherriton; McComas, No. 66, Pearisburg; Rawley Martin, No. 68, Chatham; Old Dominion, No. 69, Lynchburg; Culpeper, No. 73, Culpeper; Mildred Lee, No. 74, Martinsville; Sally Tompkins, No. 96, Ware Neck; Pulaski, No. 99, Dublin; Rebecca Lloyd Tabb, No. 107, Gloucester Courthouse; Bull Run, No. 109, Wellington; Mcunt Jackson, No. 132, Mount Jackson; Wythe Grey, No. 136, Wytheville; Governor William Smith, No. 139, Remington.

As Virginia was the battle ground, she is necessarily a vast burial ground, and the work of her Daughters is principally memorial. You have had presented to you the Alpha and Omega of Virginia in the Civil War: Bull Run and Appomattox. The South is gradually gathering up the tangled threads of the great history that is still to be written between these two great events. It depends very much upon the United Daughters of the Confederacy to do this. It is none the less our duty to perpetuate the memories and look after the graves of "the unknown dead." It matters but little to them, we know; but O "the aching of hearts anew" when we think of the thousands that lie on the far-away battle fields!

IN MEMORIAM.

(By Madame Francis Higgins Glenerne, in The Columbian.)

The same sun shines and the birds still sing and the grass grows green to the tread
Over the sod of the nameless graves where are sleeping the unknown dead;
And thousands the hands that scatter their blooms with tears for the memoried blue,
And thousands the prayers that are fervently breathed with the aching of hearts anew
For the dead who fell on the far-away fields, where the battle for them was done,
Whose eyes have looked over the Plains of Peace, with the conflict over and won,
So many a year to the hearts that ache for their dead who are under the sod,
But for whom the counting of time is not; for they dwell in the city of God.
There are tears and prayers for those who fought for the banner that starred the blue,
Whose colors are stained with the blood of the South, who died as heroes do;
And the Stars and Stripes that are rent and torn by the torrent of shot and shell
Are red with the slaughter of blue and gray, who together in battle fell;
And one for the cause that his heart held dear, who was true to his country's name;
And one who bravely fought for his rights, with never a thought of fame;
And the deeds of one are a people's pride in the land of the patriot free,
And the record of one in his nameless grave no eye but God's can see;
But the awful wounds that never were healed in the body of human clay,
When Destiny's shroud unfoldeth them, shall speak at the judgment day;
And one was crowned with the victor's wreath, with his name on the conqueror's shield;
And one sleeps well in his unknown grave on the far-away battle field;
And the roses bloom on many a grave of those who fought for the stars,

But the lilies are sweet on the heart of the South that cover its glorious scars;
And the broken sword, with its rusted blade, lies over his mangled breast;
And under the cross where he laid it down he entered eternal rest:
And 'tis many a year to the hearts that ache for their dead who are under the sod,
But for them the counting of time is not; for they dwell in the city of God.

Respectfully submitted.

MRS. EDWIN H. O'BRIEN,
President Virginia Division.

WEST VIRGINIA.

The Shepherdstown Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy (the Charter Chapter), of which I have the honor to be President, was organized six months ago.

The work of the Confederate women of Shepherdstown began thirty-six years ago. When many thousand wounded Confederate soldiers from the battle field of Antietam were cast helpless upon our community, woman's hands nursed them back to life or closed their eyes in death; woman's hands cut the sod for their graves, and strewed them with flowers. Since that time marble headstones have been placed, a monument raised to the unknown dead. The cemetery, where lie soldiers from all parts of the South, has been inclosed and beautified.

Now, these women, recognizing the beauty of unity, peace, and organization, are glad to send delegates here, and I am happy to report that other Chapters have been formed and are forming, so that the whole State will soon be working together to preserve the records and cherish the memory of those who died for the duty of that hour.

The Chapters in West Virginia now are: Shepherdstown, No. 128; Huntington, No. 150; Charleston, No. 151.

The ladies of Leetown are now forming a Chapter, and we hope soon to form a State Division.

Respectfully submitted.

HELEN M. PENDLETON,
President Shepherdstown Chapter.

At this point of the proceedings the Secretary read a letter from the President, Mrs. Fitzhugh Lee, expressing regrets at her inability to attend the Convention on account of serious illness, and the Secretary was ordered to write a letter of sympathy and regrets on behalf of the Convention.

The Recording Secretary submitted her report, which is in the words and figures as follows:

To the United Daughters of the Confederacy in Convention assembled: As our association has no by-laws or any rules as to the duties of officers, I have been forced, in the administration of my office, to be governed by parliamentary law, and to follow the duties of Recording Secretary of all organizations chartered for similar purposes. As to how well I have performed those duties, and as to what satisfaction I have given, I leave to this association to say. When I assumed the duties of my office, we had ninety Chapters, and we now have one hundred and fifty-two, having chartered sixty-two Chapters during this year. However, seven of these Chapters were chartered prior to February 1, 1897, on which day our per capita tax is assessed. I therefore, on February 17, mailed to the ninety-seven Chapters then in existence printed notices of their dues. I am glad to say, in response to the notices, most of the Chapters have paid their per capita tax. In fact, only five Chapters have not paid. This is a very small tax, and every Chapter should be willing to pay that much to keep the organization alive. The Chapters that have not paid receive as much honor and have the same representation as those that have paid. This is wrong, and should be remedied; therefore I would suggest that a series of by-laws be adopted, especially providing that Chapters in arrears shall not be entitled to representation. This is but just and equitable; for if Chapters are given representation without payment, all might refuse to pay, and thereby leave our association stranded. Independent of the per capita tax collected by me, several Chapters have paid their per capita tax to our Treasurer, Mrs. Thomas—that is, a number of the Chapters credited have paid Mrs. Thomas. This is also wrong, as our association should only have one officer authorized to notify Chapters of their dues and collect the same. Otherwise Chapters might receive notices from two different officers and be uncertain as to which one should be paid. Of course all moneys collected must, and should, go into the hands of your Treasurer, but she should not be the party to collect it.

I have issued to the different Chapters nine hundred and fifty-five certificates of membership. I have also issued several individual certificates, which, in nearly all cases, have been paid for in stamps. As to these, I have made no note, but have used the stamps in the correspondence of the association. I have found the same trouble here that I have found in the collection of the per capita tax, for a number of Chapters have sent your Treasurer money to pay for their certificates. It can be readily seen that this should not be, and one party should be the sole agent for the collection of all moneys.

I have collected altogether $480.05, all of which has been turned over to your Treasurer.

The expense of my office has been $346.90, for all of which I have presented proper vouchers and had them examined and approved by your President before they were paid. It would seem that the expense of my office has been quite heavy; but you will see from the report of your Treasurer that $176.75 thereof was for printing the Minutes of our last Convention, $40 for one thousand certificates of membership (of which I now have about five hundred), $24 for notices of our Convention, amendments to the Constitution, By-laws, etc., $9 for charters, and $11 for validating clerk, making $260.75. Taking these amounts from the expense account, it will not seem so large, it being only $86.20, which includes stamps, stationery, printing, etc. However, these extraordinary expenses will, of necessity, have to be incurred annually. I have tried to run the office as economically as possible, and hope it will meet your indorsement.

On October 5 I mailed to the one hundred and forty-three Chapters then chartered notices of our Convention, proposed amendments to the Constitution, proposed by-laws, with two blank credential certificates. I have also mailed them to each Chapter chartered since that time. I have received seven hundred and forty-seven letters during this year, and have written six hundred and seventy-three letters.

You can readily see from the above that the duties of your Recording Secretary are enormous. In fact, there has not been a day within the year that I have not had some work to do, and the office will take most of the time of any lady that assumes it and does her duty by the association. The work of the Recording Secretary will necessarily grow greater as the association increases; therefore the salary should be increased in order to secure efficient service.

In September last I communicated with the respective railroad associations in regard to securing reduced rates for our delegates. After having written a number of letters, the associations agreed to a one-and-a-third fare, provided one hundred delegates would attend the Convention. At that time I thought there would be no doubt of having that number in attendance, not dreaming that yellow fever would prevent so many from the infected States from attending. I therefore signed the agreements with the railroads, as we could not get reduced rates otherwise. However, I was compelled to advance eleven dollars to pay a validating clerk for one day's service before they would agree to anything. In advancing the eleven dollars, I named November 11 as the day the clerk should attend our Convention and indorse all return certificates. I hope my action in the premises will meet the approval of this Convention.

I think our last Convention acted very wisely in having our Constitution printed in the Minutes, for in sending out copies of the Constitution I also send the Minutes, and they have been of great interest to our women, and created greater interest in our association. I would therefore suggest that, when the next Minutes are printed, the Constitution should be incorporated, with any amendments that may be added by the Convention. I would also suggest that our by-laws be also incorporated, in case we adopt any. I have sold during the year only a few copies of the Minutes, and, as they have been paid for in small amounts, I have used it in stamps.

In conclusion, permit me to say that my correspondence with every member of the association has been most pleasant and agreeable, and especially has it been so with my sister officers, to whom I shall ever be indebted for their courteous treatment and forbearance; for they have been of great assistance to me in my work.

Respectfully submitted.

MRS. JOHN P. HICKMAN,

Secretary.

The Corresponding Secretary submitted her report, which was in the following words:

Your Corresponding Secretary has spent a very busy year writing letters, distributing circulars, and forming Chapters, with the single object in view of extending the society and advancing its interests. She consulted by letter with Mrs. Fitzhugh Lee, the president of the federation, upon a plan for writing to the different Camps of Confederate Veterans to ask their coöperation in organizing Chapters of the Daughters of the Confederacy wherever there were Camps of Veterans. A plan which is being followed by the United Sons of Confederate Veterans as a means of developing their order. It was soon perceived, however, that no one person, unless her time were wholly at her own disposal (which was not the case here), would be likely to succeed with her single pen in such a large undertaking. A narrower field must be selected. Moreover, it was known that in most of the Southern States Divisions existed; and the State officers were working to add to their Chapters, and where Divisions were not already formed, Chapters were springing up through the instrumentality chiefly of the Charter Chapters, on whom, according to the spirit and intent of the Constitution, this responsibility rested; but in two Southern States, West Virginia and Missouri, there were no Chapters of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, while in Maryland there was but one. Then there were the Northern cities of New York and Chicago, where Chapters might be formed; and it was even supposed that one could be obtained in Cincinnati. The first work of this sort that came regularly before the Secretary, as taking up the unfinished projects of the previous year, was in connection with Chicago and Cincinnati. The Secretary of the United Daughters of the Confederacy first wrote to the Commander of the Confederate Veteran Camp of New York, Col. A. G. Dickinson, receiving courteous replies from him, and a list of names of Southern ladies of the city. To several of the latter letters were then written. The New York ladies had just organized an association which they called "The New York Order of Confederate Women." As soon, however, as the invitation to join the United Daughters of the Confederacy was extended to them, they resolved to apply for a charter in the federation which would bring them into relations with their Confederate sisters throughout the South; and the result was the splendid New York Chapter we see represented here to-day.

Communication with West Virginia was opened by the Secretary of the United Daughters of the Confederacy; and by that means several Chapters have been added to the association from West Virginia, all doing noble work.

The first letter that was written by the Secretary of the United Daughters of the Confederacy to the Missouri Daughters of the Confederacy, a society in which the Chapters have never been united into a Division, was addressed March 31 to the "President of the Daughters of the Confederacy, Confederate Home, Higginsville, Mo." This was sent to Mrs. Robert, who took it to the meeting, explained the nature and purposes of the federation, and urged the Chapter to join it. From this beginning several Chapters have joined from Missouri.

While the Secretary of the United Daughters of the Confederacy has reached out, as here described, to West Virginia, Missouri, New York, Ohio, and Illinois, even attempting to find material for a Chapter in Evansville, Ind., where there is a Camp of Confederate Veterans, she has naturally not been unmindful of the places nearest her where she is more or less personally known: the States of Maryland and Virginia and the District of Columbia. In Alexandria the Secretary of the United Daughters of the Confederacy became much interested in the Chapter there of the "Children of the Confederacy," the first one founded in the United States. She was present at the Memorial Day ceremonies, May 24, when this organization of over a hundred little girls and boys formed a charming and unique feature in the procession that marched through the streets. It was learned then that the "Children of the Confederacy," Arthur Herbert Chapter, organized by some of the ladies of the Mary Curtis Lee Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy, was now an independent society, incorporated under the laws of the State of Virginia, with a right to charter other Chapters. At the request of the President or Directress of the Chapter (one of those who had founded it), a letter was written to Miss Sallie Jones, of Camden, Ala., founder and directress of the "Sam Davis Chapter," Children of the Confederacy, with a view of bringing the two Chapters together. Letters were also written by the Secretary to Mrs. Fielding Lewis Taylor, of Gloucester County, Va., President of one of the United Daughters of the Confederacy Chapters there, asking her if she could induce the projectors of the "Lewis and Henry Selden Chapter" of boys to bring the Chapter into the "Children of the Confederacy." It was then suggested that a federation, to be called the "United Children of the Confederacy," be formed by inviting the officers of the existing Chapters to meet in a Committee, or "Convention," at the time of the United Daughters of the Confederacy Convention in Baltimore, to arrange the details of such a society. The President of the "Winnie Davis Chapter," of Meridian, Miss., in her admirable address delivered at the State Convention, which met to form a Mississippi Division last April, suggested that each Chapter in her State should organize a Chapter of the "Children of the Confederacy" to "keep alive in our children the glorious memories of the sixties." Why may not this be done in every State? The Secretary hopes that the preliminary steps at least may be taken at this time, in Baltimore, for the formation of a "United Children of the Confederacy" to keep pace with the "United Daughters of the Confederacy."

The Corresponding Secretary has written during the year three hundred and forty letters and twenty-two postal cards on the business of the association. She has distributed sixty-two circulars giving information about the society.

Respectfully submitted,

KATE MASON ROWLAND,
Corresponding Secretary.

From the balance reported on hand, $376.15, must be deducted the $25 given for Northern graves, $25 to Bull Run, and $25 to Appomattox, which will leave an actual cash balance on hand of $301.15.

MRS. JOHN P. HICKMAN, Secretary.

Mrs. Wm. H. Felton, of Cartersville, Ga., then addressed the Convention on the "Importance of the Education of the Poor Girls of the South."

Scattered all over the Southern States there are numerous descendants of Confederate soldiers. The great majority of these persons are poor and in straitened circumstances. Especially is this true in the mountainous regions and in the wire grass sections. Their soldier fathers and grandfathers were, as a rule, poor men, and had small influence in forcing the issues of the civil war. Thousands of them never owned a slave. It speaks loudly for their love of home and native land that these men made such good soldiers. When the history of the civil war is written, due credit will be given to these brave men who gave their lives for a principle, and lost all in the struggle, save honor.

When the tocsin of war pealed over the South, the men who owned no slaves crowded into the ranks beside those who owned large possessions in such property, all fighting in defense of a common country. In their rural homes their departure meant privation, lack of protection, and untold hardships to the women and children of their respective families. No one will question their grief at parting or imagine that they loved each other less than richer patriots. When they encountered the shock of battle, what memories of the past must have filled their minds, with the uncertainties of the present all about them! When these poor men were lifted to the amputating table, and faced death in such a trial, who can tell the grief and agony and the longing for home and one more kiss for the baby on its mother's bosom?

To my mind there is greater heroism in such a surrender of life, liberty, and happiness in the latter condition than in the former; and there are ties that bind these dead soldiers of the Confederacy to their surviving comrades that never can, and never should, be broken. Their sufferings in camp and hospital, their forced marches and sentry duty, bind them to each other like links of steel; and there should be loyal allegiance to the children of their dead comrades as they mix and mingle in the later battles of life.

There should be more than gratitude to the memory of the valiant dead; there should be accepted responsibility and open sympathy, together with hopeful, helpful attention, for the widows and orphans of this war-desolated country. The Federal Government keeps a watchful eye over the interests of the Union soldiers, and the taxpayers, North and South, furnish millions of dollars to keep such veterans with comforts, and their families with plenty and prosperity; but this is not the time or the place to review this condition of affairs or the legislation that brought it about. This question was settled by the sword, and the best citizens are those who are now anxious to build up the waste places and repair the ravages of civil war with lasting prosperity and genuine progress, without strife or dissension. But the orphans of the Confederate soldiers must look for help to the men and women of the Confederacy, and to them alone. These children and grandchildren (whose protectors are gone forever, and their bones are bleaching on every battle field from the Potomac to the Rio Grande) are the wards of the Confederacy, and their guardians are those who survived the fatalities of civil war.

In the fierce struggle that has ensued since Appomattox, there has been no time or opportunity for organization and relief like the present. As we look over the situation, we find that two rich men gave a million of dollars each for the education of the colored youth in the South—namely, John F. Slater and Daniel Hand, of Augusta, Ga. Besides these benefactions, there are many millions invested for higher education in colleges and universities given by others. I would not deprive the colored girls of a friend or rob them of a dollar. God raised up friends for them in their low estate. The State of Georgia (and perhaps every other Southern State) taxes every dollar's worth of taxable property in its limits for the common school education of both races, share and share alike; but the poor white girls of the Southern country are largely destitute of higher educational privileges by reason of the States' poverty and their own destitution and distance from colleges. Who can measure the neglect and deprivation of the last thirty years among these poor white families who have been barely able to subsist in the rural districts? Who can estimate their losses in widowhood and orphanage? Until some cotton factories were established the deprivation was almost universal, and illiteracy rampant; and there is small improvement in many localities, because of the immense scope of country and farm work, the only avocation open to their labor or instruction.

I would not discount foreign missionary work or check the enthusiasm of those who are eager to elevate the heathen; but I find ample opportunity here in our midst for immense amounts of missionary money. The poor white people are becoming apathetic and despairing. Yet the white girls of these benighted sections are to be the coming mothers of the white race in the South by a large majority. The destiny of the white population rests in their hands. They will make or unmake the progress of their own race and color in the aforetime Confederacy, and there is patriotism as well as philanthropy involved in the problem before us.

If the dead soldiers could revisit earth during one of the great general reunions of the present time; if they could come down to us in long, shining lines, and tell us what they desired, and what would be most gratifying to parental love and genuine patriotism, do you suppose they would be asking for soldiers' homes or a refuge for survivors, when they now occupy homes "not made with hands, eternal in the heavens?" Would they ask you for monuments to "keep memory green," when they have already a place in your hearts more enduring than brass or marble? Do you imagine they would clamor for flowers on Decoration Days or any other days, if their orphaned daughters or granddaughters were ragged, homeless, and illiterate?

No, ladies, they would tell you that nothing was so close to their affections as their children; they would cry out, in tones of startling entreaty: "Save my children! Save them from oppression; save them from ignorance; save them from drunkenness; save them from vice and crime! Lead them in paths of peace, virtue, and honest living, and give them an even chance in the hard battle of life."

Think, ladies, what unprecedented poverty and hardships were borne by the poor wives and mothers during the Confederacy. Can anybody measure their self-sacrifice during those days of trial? Shall they bear the burden of neglect another thirty years? Remember these women who love their children.

Do not forget the poor, needy, and grateful white girls of the South while you are absorbed in your plans and endeavors for the veterans and the security of war-time relics. You must take up this work of succor and relief, or it must go unnoticed forever. They are now in your charge, and unless you move along this line, nobody is going to do it for you. Organize for their relief, canvass each county, secure a muster roll of each company and regiment, and trace these soldiers' children, whenever it is possible to do it, to their homes, and give them at least a hopeful word, if not a helping hand. No effort in the South will carry with it stronger sympathy or more genuine enthusiasm than a movement in favor of the poor daughters and granddaughters of your well-beloved veterans.

Mrs. Felton's address was so ably presented that it created great enthusiasm and brought forth prolonged applause.

Mrs. Albert Akers, in behalf of Mrs. Wm. F. Holtzman, of Washington City, presented the following on the education of the children of the South:

With earnest admiration of the noble work that you have already accomplished, we feel sure that your society has a great future, and, imbibing inspiration from your efforts, we are emboldened to widen our own work. Primarily organized for the relief of the needy Southerners in our midst—to provide them with food, fuel, and shelter—we are furthermore convinced that, as "man cannot live by bread alone," it is our bounden duty to receive the dictum of the sage who commanded: "Give education to those who cannot procure it for themselves." It has therefore been resolved that we give our attention to educational work throughout the South. In this we earnestly request your sympathetic coöperation.

Many of you are aware that it is the gallant wish of the Confederate soldiers and other loyal Southerners to erect a monument to the Southern woman in commemoration of the aid rendered by her to our beloved "Lost Cause." We suggest that this chivalric move find expression in a monument more enduring than brass, and that it take the shape of a university for women, an institution wherein the daughters, granddaughters, and great-granddaughters of the brave Confederate veterans, and of the noble women who patiently and untiringly gave them their aid, at home and in the hospital, during all that long struggle, may obtain that thorough mental training and higher education for which so many are now thirsting, and which the public schools, though good, cannot supply. Such an institution would, we feel assured, be the most acceptable and appropriate monument that could be erected in honor of the Southern woman—a tribute that would not only honor her, but be of lasting and continuous benefit to her descendants.

In full confidence that our work will meet your ready approval, we commend it to prompt and vigorous action, and beg that you will assist us in inaugurating such measures as shall best define and facilitate our purpose. The first contribution to the materialization of this idea was donated at the Columbian Exposition, and is in the possession of Mrs. Major Albert Akers, who will now show it to you.

Mrs. Mary B. Poppenheim, of South Carolina, offered the following resolutions:

Whereas the objects of this association are "educational, memorial, literary, social, and benevolent; to collect and preserve the material for a truthful history of the war between the Confederate States and the United States of America;" and

Whereas it is the duty of this association, from the above clause in its Constitution, "to see that there is laid before the rising generation an impartial and just account of that period of our history;" therefore be it

Resolved, That we, the United Daughters of the Confederacy, protest against the utterances emanating from the Chair of History in the University of the South, at Sewanee, Tenn. The publication issued under the name, "Southern Statesmen of the Old Régime," and which owes its authorship to the Professor of History in that institution, is not a fair or impartial criticism of either Mr. Calhoun or Mr. Davis, and, as such, tends to prejudice students against these prominent expounders of the doctrine of State's rights; also

Resolved, That, in the opinion of the Daughters of the Confederacy, if the minds of Southern youth are poisoned at the very fountain heads of learning, then indeed has come that conquest of opinion which William Gilmore Simms feared would follow the conquest of war, and which, we believe, will be far more disastrous in its consequences.

The Secretary presented the following resolutions, prepared by Mrs. Helen Millington, of Chattanooga, Tenn :

Whereas the school histories of the United States now in use in our Southern schools, coming from Northern authors and Northern publishing houses, do not properly set forth many matters pertaining to the character of the Southern people and their peculiar institutions, habits, and modes of living; do not correctly state the causes that led up to the recent war between the States; misrepresent a great many of the happenings of that important era; leave out much that would redound to Southern patriotism and courage; and by the use of such terms as "rebellion," "rebels," "treason," and "traitors" would give our children false ideas of our cause, of our people, and of their conduct; therefore be it

Resolved, by the United Daughters of the Confederacy in convention assembled, That, realizing the need of a true, unbiased, impartial school history of the United States in our Southern schools, wherein our Southern cause and Southern people shall be truly vindicated and set forth, we take immediate steps to secure the production and publication of the same; also

Resolved, That we solicit the aid and patronage of all the Daughters who may desire to have our children taught the truth, unobscured by sectionalism or partisanship; and to that end we place the introduction of this history into our schools in the hands of each local branch of our organization.

Mrs. E. G. McCabe, of Atlanta, Ga., read a request from the Atlanta Chapter, asking the endorsement by the Convention of Miss L. A. Fields' (of Georgia) School History, and also that there be childrens' chapters formed at each domicile of a chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. After some discussion of the subjects, the chair appointed the following committees :

Committee on Histories—Mrs. James Conner, South Carolina; Mrs. James M. Garnett, Maryland; Mrs. Katie C. Currie, Texas; Mrs. Ellison Capers, South Carolina; Miss Mildred L. Rutherford, Georgia.

Committee on Organization of Children—Miss Mary Lee Lloyd, Virginia; Miss Mary Amelia Smith, Virginia; Mrs. J. Jefferson Thomas, Georgia; Mrs. Ellen P. Bryce, Alabama; Mrs. W. T. Thelin, Maryland; Miss Kate Crawford, South Carolina; Mrs. E. G. Weed, Florida.

The Convention then adjourned until to-morrow morning.

SECOND DAY.

The Convention met at 10 A. M., Mrs. D. Giraud Wright in the chair.

On motion, it was ordered that no lady should occupy the floor more than three minutes.

On motion, it was ordered that the Recording Secretary, assisted by a committee of three, to be appointed by the chair, should condense all reports for publication in the minutes. Whereupon the chair named the following ladies, residents of Nashville, Tenn., to assist the Secretary: Mrs. John Overton, Mrs. John C. Brown and Mrs. John C. Gaut.

The Committee on Credentials then submitted its report, which was in the following words and figures:

Delegates entitled to representation in the Baltimore Convention, United Daughters of the Confederacy, November 10, 1897.

Making 325 delegates, 10 State Presidents. Total, 335 votes.

We, the undersigned Committee on Credentials, certify that the foregoing delegates are entitled to representation in this Convention.

MRS. E. G. WEED, Chairman.

MRS. C. A. FORNEY.

MRS. THOMAS TAYLOR.

A point of order was raised, that the actions of the Convention on yesterday were illegal, as they were had before the report of the Committee on Credentials. Whereupon, on motion, the proceedings of the Convention of yesterday were ratified.

The proposed amendments to the Constitution were then considered ad seriatim.

First Amendment—As to the domicile of the Association, on motion of Miss Rutherford, was amended so as to read, “for one year,” and adopted.

Second Amendment—Was amended by striking out Inspector and Parliamentary, and adopted.

Third Amendment—As to time and place of meeting of the Association, was defeated.

Fourth Amendment—As to seals of State divisions, adopted.

Fifth Amendment—As to formation of more than one chapter in a city, was amended so as to leave that with the States.

Sixth Amendment—As to change of badge, was referred to a committee composed of the Presidents of the respective States, with Mrs. Ronnsaville, of Georgia, as Chairman, to be reported at the next Convention, or sooner, if possible.

Seventh Amendment—As to the term of holding office, was defeated.

The Chairman read an invitation from the Trustees and Board of Managers of the Confederate Soldiers' Home, of Baltimore, to a reception at the Home, this Thursday afternoon. The invitation was accepted with thanks, when the Convention adjourned until 7 P. M.

The Convention reassembled at 7 P. M.

A number of appeals were presented for assistance in caring for Confederate graves, building Confederate monuments, etc., among which was the following appeal from Kirkwood Otey Chapter, at Lynchburg, Va.

This paper, addressed to you by the Memorial Association and the Kirkwood Otey Chapter of the Daughters of the Confederacy, would respectfully represent that they are deeply interested in the erection of a monument to the Virginia volunteer soldiers who sacrificed their lives upon the field of battle, the heroes who, upon a hundred fields of fame, offered up themselves as an oblation to liberty and love of country.

They would hesitatingly ask assistance in this patriotic and pious undertaking. It may not be amiss, in making this request, to remind their Southern sisters that, soon after the termination of hostilities, the ladies of the Memorial Association of Lynchburg, impoverished as they were by the sad closing of that dread drama, erected to the memory of the soldiers from the South who died in the Ladies' Relief and other hospitals of this city, a monument, inscribed with the States which they represented. If the members of the Chapters or Daughters from every Southern State here represented shall deem it a suitable reciprocation of this act of devotion to now assist in our efforts to erect a monument to our own volunteer soldiers who, with their loved ones, fell in the sacred cause of freedom, it will be gratefully and reverentially accepted and remembered as a loving tribute.

Respectfully submitted as an appeal from

MRS. KIRKWOOD OTEY, •
President Memorial Association.

After hearing all the appeals and fully considering them, the convention donated $25 for graves of Confederate soldiers on Northern soil, $25 for Appomattox, and $25 for Bull Run.

Miss Kate Mason Rowland offered the following resolution, but no action was taken thereon :

Resolved, That the 3d of June, 1898, and each recurring anniversary of that day, shall be celebrated by this Association with appropriate ceremonies, so that the birthday of Jefferson Davis, our honored Confederate President, may be kept in perpetual remembrance by the people.

The following congratulatory telegram was read:

JACKSONVILLE, FLA., Nov. 11, 1897.

Martha Reid Chapter No. 19.—Send congratulation and welcome to the Grand Division of Virginia on uniting with the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

MRS. W. D. MATTHEWS, President.

Mrs. J. D. Beale, of Alabama, moved that Mrs. Jefferson Davis be made honorary President of the Association, whereupon the Secretary reported that Mrs. M. C. Goodlett, of Tennessee, the first President of the Association, had been elected honorary President at the Convention in Atlanta, Ga., in 1895. Mrs. Beale then withdrew her motion.

The Convention then adjourned until to-morrow morning at 10 o'clock.

THIRD DAY.

The Convention met at 10 A. M., Mrs. D. Giraud Wright in the chair.

Mrs. Mary Amelia Smith, President of the Virginia Division, presented the following preamble and resolutions:

To the Convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy assembled in Baltimore on November 10, 1897:

Whereas the badge of the United Daughters of the Confederacy has never been copyrighted, and has been put upon the market and may be owned by any one, and has therefore ceased to be an evidence of membership in this order; and

Whereas the said badge has not upon it the battle-flag of the Confederacy under which its glorious victories were won and the splendid heroism of its soldiers proclaimed to the world; therefore be it

Resolved, That the delegates from the Virginia Division of the United Daughters of the Confederacy to the General Convention to meet in the city of Baltimore on November 10, 1897, be, and they are hereby, instructed to advocate and to vote for the following as the badge of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, and the same to be at once copyrighted:

It consists of the battle flag of the Confederacy and the Confederate flag adopted by the Confederate Congress, March 4, 1865, in blue, white, and red enamel, surrounded by a gold laurel wreath, the flagstuffs crossed in the center of the circle formed by the wreath, with the monogram "U. D. C." under flags in the angle formed by crossing the flagstuffs, and the date "'61-'65" on loops tying the flagstuffs in center of circle; near the tops of the two flags, a band connecting them, on which would be indicated the State preferred.

Respectfully submitted.

MARY AMELIA SMITH,
President Virginia Division, United Daughters of the Confederacy.

After much discussion on the subject, the whole matter was referred to a committee composed of the Presidents of the respective State Divisions, with Mrs. J. A. Rounsaville, of Georgia, as chairman thereof; said committee to ascertain the sense of their Chapters on the subject, and submit their report to the next Annual Convention.

Mrs. J. M. Duncan, Jr., President of the Mississippi Division, presented the following appeal on behalf of the State of Mississippi, for the purchase of Beauvoir:

Madam President, Comrades, and Friends: Mississippi comes to

"Maryland, our Maryland," to-day, bringing with her hand clasp of greeting and good fellowship a message from her snowy cotton fields and pine hills, as appealing to your hearts here about the blue and silver bay, breathing fragrance from the fir and spruce woods, the same that kissed the cheek of dauntless "Jeb Stewart" and his admiring swift followers; as appealing to the heart of her of the "Lone Star State," with her "Pelican" neighbor standing in fields of cane and rice, as to Alabama, Georgia, Tennessee, the Carolinas, or to Florida, flower-decked, reclining eternally in the sea. Missouri, great-hearted sister, ever responsive to our call, is ready. Arkansas, Kentucky, and Virginia will all hearken to Mississippi, where the ripples never cease and the tall magnolias float their snowy banners of sweet peace, where the sweetest skylarks in the sunshine plume their wings for higher flights, in a dreamland of memories, in the breath of the orange and grape, in palms and flowers, amid stately trees like tireless sentinels guarding day and night—there stands "Beauvoir"—"Beauvoir" (beautiful view), the home of him who was our leader in a cause we deemed most just. He, the head of an epoch in this country's history, whose name will forever shine, has joined the snowy throng, and is now abiding with the marshaled hosts on heavenly fields. Dead, yet lives forever!

Mississippi bears the honor of being the earthly home of Jefferson Davis. It is ours, yet we possess it not. Will you lift your energies, daughters of that great Confederacy, and join your forces with Mississippi to perpetuate and hold forever in the keeping of none other than this Confederacy this home, a fitting heritage to the South and the cause he led, and for which he died, broken-hearted? "Winnie Davis," the charter Chapter of the United Daughters of the Confederacy of the State, and the name Chapter of his youngest daughter (who is to us the "daughter of the Confederacy"), appropriately first raised its voice, reverberant with the enthusiasm of the seven other Chapters of the State sympathetically rallying to the call. In this appeal for your favorable consideration to-day, I voice the Chapter "Winnie Davis" and the State of Mississippi at large. It has been told me that our late illustrious President of the Confederacy expressed the wish that this home could some day be his veteran followers' home. Pledge us your aid, for it is to posterity we owe the preservation of this sentiment. A monument we are not to build, but to preserve from Time's relentless changes a sentiment dear to all—not local, but universal.

This is the work of our hands, if I mistake not, to "preserve history." What, then, is history, if the open portal of "Beauvoir" to the rising generations is not an open volume? Far more significant and instructive to the youthful imagination, as an object lesson, is it than the chapter Manassas read from out the history of the entire conflict, or the name of our greatest hero writ on a rock. We cannot gaze upon the home of Davis and exclude from mental vision those causes and effects of his greatness. Shall we not endeavor to preserve memories and perpetuate history in its truest sense unitedly?

Assuredly our objects are educational, memorial, and benevolent. Into the ears of the whole United Daughters of the Confederacy to-day I call for united effort. Report to me, upon your return to your respective chapters, their decision, and make known our solicitations to each Camp of Veterans, to whom we bow reverently, even in thought, that it is our privilege to be their aids-de-camp. Tell them all that, with an annual contribution from their treasuries, we will succeed. They will be sharers in the glory of this possession, for this home shall be the home of all the needy veterans. Those weary ones still marching on may lie down daydreaming under the spreading magnolias, which oftentimes sheltered their chieftain, and in the fleecy clouds picture the myriads gone on, their saintly Lee with his strong arm still beckoning the now peaceful faces of his loved ones in gray.

Arlington is not ours, but the home of Washington, the rebel, is preserved. Then why not let us have "Beauvoir?" There let our veterans pass in peace the short remnant of time allotted to them, roaming in sad pleasure the rooms and corridors made sacred by the footsteps of Davis.

Could we write a history more eloquent? Could we prepare a gift more acceptable to those going in yet a little while to join their leaders? Could we welcome them to a home, a sweeter home than this, where mocking-birds only will recall the marshal quickstep, and the thrushes' notes, the bugle call?

The appeal was heartily approved by the Convention, and the matter was to be laid before the next Convention of United Confederate Veterans, with the hope that the two associations might adopt some plan for the purchase of the home of our beloved President.

The By-laws proposed by the Tennessee Division were then considered, amended, and adopted, which By-laws, as adopted, will appear just following the amended Constitution in these Minutes.

The election of officers being next in order, Mrs. John P. Hickman, in behalf of Tennessee, seconded by Mrs. C. A. Forney, of Arkansas, nominated Mrs. Katie Cabell Currie, of Texas, for President.

Mrs. A. T. Smythe, of South Carolina, seconded by Mrs. N. V. Randolph, of Virginia, nominated Mrs. D. Giraud Wright, of Maryland.

On call of the roll, Mrs. Currie was elected.

Mrs. D. Giraud Wright was then unanimously elected First Vice-president.

Mrs. Kirkwood Otey, of Virginia, and Mrs. C. Helen Plane, of Georgia, were nominated for Second Vice-president, when, on call of the roll, Mrs. Plane was elected.

Mrs. John P. Hickman, of Tennessee, was elected Recording Secretary by acclamation.

Mrs. J. Jefferson Thomas, of Georgia, and Mrs. E. G. Weed, of Florida, were nominated for Treasurer.

On call of the roll, Mrs. Thomas was elected.

Mrs. R. C. Cooley, of Florida, Mrs. W. M. Parsley, of North Carolina, and Mrs. J. M. Duncan, Jr., of Mississippi, were nominated for Corresponding Secretary.

On a call of the roll, Mrs. Duncan was declared elected.

Miss Martha Washington, of South Carolina, offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted :

South Carolina thanks Mrs. Wright for the able manner in which she has presided over this Convention, making peace and harmony the keynote of her rulings, whilst meting out full justice to all sides. To the ladies of Baltimore we return hearty thanks for the boundless hospitality they have shown us, fully sustaining their reputation, as in days gone by, when their hearts, homes and purses were open to our tattered boys in gray.

The following resolution was also presented, seconded by Mrs. Hickman, of Tennessee, and in fact all States represented seconded, and adopted by acclamation :

The delegation from Virginia, through Miss Mary Lee Lloyd, acting President of Mary Custis Lee Chapter, express their thanks to the Maryland Division for the many kindnesses and graceful courtesies extended them during their visit to Baltimore.

The following places then presented invitations for the meeting of the convention of 1898: Montgomery, Alabama; Hot Springs, Arkansas; and Charleston, South Carolina.

On a call of the roll, the Hot Springs invitation was accepted.

The Convention then adjourned, to meet in Hot Springs, Arkansas, on the second Wednesday in November, 1898, at 10 o'clock A.M.

We, the committee appointed by the President to assist the Secretary to curtail the reports for the minutes, have carefully examined them, and all reports that appear in these minutes have been abbreviated by us to the best of our ability.

Very respectfully,

MRS. JOHN OVERTON,
MRS. JOHN C. BROWN,
MRS. JOHN C. GAUT.

ENTERTAINMENTS.

The Baltimore Chapter gave a most delightful reception at Lehmann's Hall on Wednesday evening, Nov. 10, complimentary to the visiting delegates. The hall was beautifully and elaborately decorated with cut flowers and palms. On the platform, hidden by trailing vines and evergreens, a lovely orchestra discoursed the sweetest of music. The programme was interspersed with soul-stirring Southern songs by some of Baltimore's most charming young daughters. The refreshments were delicious and bountifully served. After entertaining in a most hospitable manner each visiting delegate, and as good nights were being said, each lady was presented with an exquisite souvenir of red and white carnations.

On the afternoon of the 11th cars were in readiness at the appointed time to convey the delegates to the Confederate Soldiers' Home at Pikeville. As we approached the Home we were greeted by the patriotic and inspiring strains of "Dixie" and "Maryland, My Maryland," from a band stationed at the entrance, and the inmates, "the dear old boys in gray," were lined up to welcome us, which they did right royally. The reception was one which will never be forgotten. After serving most delightful refreshments we were escorted through the Home by the members of the Board of Managers. Just before leaving Miss Rutherford, of Athens, Ga., recited, in a most charming and feeling manner, Ella Wheeler Wilcox's poem of Sam Davis, at the close of which there was not a dry eye in the vast crowd. After hearty handshaking and good wishes we bid them good-bye.

CONSTITUTION

OF THE

United Daughters of the Confederacy.

(Adopted in September, 1894, and amended at the Conventions in November, 1895, 1896, and 1897.)

ARTICLE I.—Name.

Section 1. The name or title of the association shall be "The United Daughters of the Confederacy," and its domicile shall be in the city of Nashville, Tenn., for one year.

Sec. 2. Each State organization shall be known as a Division, and designated by the name of the State in which it is located, and each local organization in that State as a Chapter of the said Division, such Chapters to be numbered consecutively, and designated by such names as they may select.

ARTICLE II.—Objects.

The objects of this association are educational, memorial, literary, social, and benevolent; to collect and preserve the material for a truthful history of the war between the Confederate States and the United States of America; to honor the memory of those who served and those who fell in the service of the Confederate States, and to record the part taken by Southern women, as well, in untiring effort after the war in the reconstruction of the South, as in patient endurance of hardship and patriotic devotion during the struggle; to cherish ties of friendship among the members of the society, and to fulfill the duties of sacred charity to the survivors of the war and those dependent upon them.

ARTICLE III.—Organization of Chapters.

Section 1. Those women entitled to membership are the widows, wives, mothers, sisters, nieces, and lineal descendants of such men as served honorably in the Confederate Army, Navy, or Civil Service, or of those persons who loyally gave material aid to the cause; also women and their lineal descendants, wherever living, who can give proof of personal service and loyal aid to the Southern cause during the war.

Sec. 2. Each State Division shall furnish blank applications for membership to be used throughout that Division. These blanks may differ in form, but must not conflict with the qualifications of membership as set forth in this Constitution. The mode of electing and admitting members may also vary with each Division; provided, again, the qualifications for membership be not inconsistent with this Constitution.

Sec. 3. Seven or more women in any State in which no Division exists may organize a Chapter, and be chartered, on application to the United Daughters of the Confederacy, and all Chapters subsequently formed in that State shall apply through the first Chapter to the United Daughters of the Confederacy for their charters; provided, that subsequent to the tenth day of November, 1897, no Chapter shall be formed in any incorporated city or town in which a Chapter already exists, except by and with the consent of the State Division in which said city or town may be situated. A fee of three dollars shall be paid to the United Daughters of the Confederacy for each charter. Each Chapter shall report annually to the United Daughters of the Confederacy, and shall, on the first day of each succeeding February, pay into the Treasury of the United Daughters of the Confederacy the sum of ten cents for each and every member who may at such date be in good standing on the roll of such Chapter; provided, however, that nothing in this Constitution contained shall be construed as preventing any Division or Chapter from becoming legally incorporated under the laws of the State in which it is located, should it desire to do so.

Sec. 4. The United Daughters of the Confederacy suggest that the annual meeting of all Chapters be held on General Lee's birthday, January 19, or, if, that day falls on Sunday, then on the day following.

ARTICLE IV.—Organization of State Divisions.

Section 1. When three or more Chapters shall be organized in any State, it shall be the duty of the first or Charter Chapter to call a Convention for the purpose of organizing a State Division. Such Convention shall be held at a time and place to be designated by the Charter Chapter, at which Convention each Chapter shall be entitled to one vote for every twenty-five members or fraction thereof, if such fraction be not less than seven.

Sec. 2. Such State Division shall be organized by the adoption of a Constitution and By-laws, none of which shall be inconsistent with any of the provisions of this Constitution, and by the election of a President and other proper officers. Any one or more representatives from any Chapter shall be authorized to cast the full vote to which such Chapter may be entitled. In case a Chapter is unable to send a delegate, its vote may be cast by proxy.

Sec. 3. From and after the organization of such State Division, all Chapters in such State shall be organized, upon proper application for their charters to the United Daughters of the Confederacy, through the Division.

ARTICLE V.—Conventions of U. D. C.

Section 1. Conventions of United Daughters of the Confederacy shall be held annually on the second Wednesday of November, at such place as designated by the preceding Convention.

Sec. 2. Each Chapter shall be entitled, in all Conventions of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, to one vote for every twenty-five members or fraction thereof not less than seven; provided, that when a Chapter has less than twenty-five members it shall be entitled to one vote. Any one or more representatives from any such Chapter shall be authorized to cast the full vote to which such Chapter may be entitled. Any Chapter not able to send a delegate may send the vote by proxy.

Sec. 3. The President of each State Division shall be entitled to one vote in all Conventions of the United Daughters of the Confederacy. Should any such President be unable to attend in person, she may send her vote by proxy.

ARTICLE VI.—Officers.

The officers of the United Daughters of the Confederacy shall be a President, who shall preside at all meetings.

Two Vice Presidents; the senior Vice President present shall preside in the absence of the President.

A Recording Secretary.

A Corresponding Secretary.

A Treasurer.

All these shall be elected to serve one year, or until their successors shall be elected and qualified.

In case of a tie, the President has power to cast the deciding vote.

ARTICLE VII.—Finance.

A Committee on Finance shall be composed of five members, to whom shall be referred all matters of receipts and expenditures.

ARTICLE VIII.—Certificates of Membership.

Certificates of membership shall be furnished by each Chapter to all members in good standing. Such certificates shall be supplied by the United Daughters of the Confederacy, with their seal attached. These certificates must be signed by the President and Secretary of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, the President of the State Division, and the President and Secretary of the local Chapter.

ARTICLE IX.—Badges, Insignia, Seals.

Section 1. The badge to be worn by the Daughters of the Confederacy shall consist of a representation of the Confederate flag (stars and bars), in white, blue, and scarlet enamel, surrounded by a laurel wreath, with the monogram "D. C." under the flag, and dates "'61-'65" on loops of bow tying wreath. Divisions and Chapters may use, in addition, a badge of their own.

Sec. 2. The seal of the United Daughters of the Confederacy shall be a reproduction of the great seal of the Confederate States of America, with the addition of the inscription, "Daughters of the Confederacy," on the outer rim.

Sec. 3. The seals for all State Divisions shall be of the same design, with the addition of the name of the Division in the outer rim; provided, however, that any State Division which may so prefer shall have the right to use the seal of its own State, with the addition of the name of the Division upon the outer rim."

Sec. 4. All official documents emanating from the United Daughters of the Confederacy shall bear the impress of its great seal.

Sec. 5. The use of the name, seal, and badge of the United Daughters of the Confederacy for business purposes, other than the business of this association, is expressly prohibited.

ARTICLE X.—Manual.

"The Woman's Manual of Parliamentary Law," by Harriet R. Shattuck, shall be the authority on parliamentary rules at all Conventions of this association.

ARTICLE XI.—Amendments.

This Constitution may be amended by a two-thirds vote at any Convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy; provided, notice of such intention to amend be filed with the Secretary at least thirty days before the day fixed for the Convention. Upon the filing of such notice, the Secretary shall forthwith extend the same to each of the officers of the United Daughters of the Confederacy, and to the representative of each Chapter in direct connection with the United Daughters of the Confederacy.

BY-LAWS.

(Adopted at the Convention held in Baltimore, Md., November 10, 1897.)

ARTICLE I.—Name and Domicile.

This association shall be known as the "United Daughters of the Confederacy," and its domicile shall be the city of Nashville, Tenn., for one year.

ARTICLE II.—Officers.

The officers of this association shall be a President, two Vice Presidents, a Recording Secretary, a Corresponding Secretary, and a Treasurer, who shall serve for one year, or until their successors are elected and qualified.

ARTICLE III.—Duties of Officers.

Section 1. The President, or, in her absence, the next Vice President in authority, shall preside at all regular or called meetings of the association.

Sec. 2. The President shall be the chief executive officer of the association, and shall have general charge of its affairs and supervision of all the other officers. She shall be Chairman of the Executive Committee, and shall have the right to attend the meetings of all committees appointed by the association, and shall discharge all such duties as usually appertain to the office of President.

Sec. 3. The Vice Presidents shall assist the President in the discharge of her duties, and in her absence the one next in rank shall assume all the duties and responsibilities appertaining to the office of President, and they shall also be members of the Executive Committee.

Sec. 4. The Recording Secretary shall be the custodian of the great seal and all historical and official papers of the association. All matters for record shall be turned over to her and be kept by her in her office. She shall also keep a Minute Book, in which shall be recorded an accurate record of the proceedings of all meetings of the association, either regular, special, or called. Under her supervision there shall be prepared and published, in pamphlet form, the Minutes of the annual Convention. She shall also discharge all other duties that may appertain to her office. She shall forward to each subordinate Chapter annually the blank forms of returns to be made by them, such returns to be forwarded to her with the amount of the dues of such subordinate Chapters. Upon receipt of such dues, she shall give her receipt for the same, and pay them over to the Treasurer, taking her receipt therefor.

Sec. 5. The Corresponding Secretary shall conduct all correspondence between the association and the subordinate Chapters and other persons; she shall notify all members of committees of their appointment, and furnish the names of the members of the committees to the Chairman thereof; she shall issue all notices and communications to the subordinate Chapters; she shall conduct any and all other correspondence under the direction of the President; she shall discharge such other duties as may appertain to her office."

Sec. 6. The Treasurer shall be the financial agent of the association; she shall receive and receipt for all moneys collected by the Recording Secretary, as enumerated in Section 5 of this Article; she shall keep (1) a cash book, in which all collections shall be immediately entered and so specified, and (2) a ledger, in which she shall keep a just and true account between the association and Chapters, and all other accounts; she shall receive all other moneys, fines, and dues, and credit the same when paid, giving her receipt for the same. Her books, papers, etc., shall be subject to the inspection of the Finance Committee and the officers of the association. She shall make an annual report of the condition of her department at each annual meeting, or oftener, when called upon by the President, showing the receipts and expenditures, with the balance remaining on hand, and, at the close of her term of office, furnish a full statement, together with all vouchers and papers relating thereto, to the association; she shall keep the money of the association in some national bank, to be paid only upon her check, when countersigned by the President, or, in the absence of the President, by one of the Vice Presidents. Such money shall be paid out as ordered by the association or by the Executive Committee.

ARTICLE IV.—Committees.

Sec. 1. There shall be the following standing committees: The Executive Committee, composed of the President (who shall be Chairman of the committee), the two Vice Presidents, the Recording Secretary, the Corresponding Secretary, and the Treasurer. Said committee shall be vested with power to conduct the general affairs of the association, and to meet whenever business demands. The Executive Committee shall be the de facto Board of Trustees of the association, and as such perform its functions when necessary. It shall have supreme supervision and control of all property, personal and real, except when otherwise directed, that may be acquired by this association.

Sec. 2. The Committee on Finance shall, in addition to their other duties, audit the books of the Treasurer annually, and at such other times as they may be ordered to do so by the President.

ARTICLE V.—Meetings.

Section 1. This association shall meet annually on the second Wednesday in November, at such place as designated by the preceding Convention, and the Recording Secretary shall take all votes of the Convention by a call of the roll of States.

Sec. 2. Special meetings of the Executive Committee for the transaction of particular or urgent business may be called by the President at any time, and shall be called at the written request of three States in good standing in the association, the action of said Executive Committee to be subject to ratification by the next annual Convention.

Sec. 3. The Conventions of the association shall consist of the following members: The President of each State Division, and one delegate to every twenty-five members or fraction thereof over seven.

Sec. 4. The Recording Secretary of the association shall be Secretary of the Convention and a member thereof.

ARTICLE VI.—Assessments and Dues.

The dues of the association shall be a ten-cent per capita tax, which shall be due and payable on the first day of each succeeding February; and it shall be the duty of the Recording Secretary to annually send to each Chapter a notice of these dues, and which shall be assessed against each member in the respective Chapters on said first day of February. Any Chapter being in arrears in the payment of said dues.

for six months shall not be entitled to representation in the Conventions of the association, and shall stand suspended; provided, that any suspended Chapter which may pay all indebtedness due by it to the association at the time of its suspension may be restored to membership in good standing.

ARTICLE VII.—Charters and Official Documents.

All charters issued, and all official documents emanating from this association, shall be signed by the President and Recording Secretary, and attested with the great seal of the association.

ARTICLE VIII.—Amendments.

Amendments may be made to these By-laws at any meeting by a two-thirds vote of the members present.

RULES OF ORDER.

In the transaction of business, this association shall be governed by the usual rules of procedure and debate that govern deliberative assemblies.

The following shall be the order of business:

1. Calling the Convention to order.
2. Prayer.
3. Appointment of a Committee on Credentials.
4. Calling the Roll of Officers.
5. Reading of the Minutes.
6. Report of the Committee on Credentials.
7. Report of the Recording Secretary.
8. Report of the Treasurer.
9. Report of the Corresponding Secretary.
10. Reports of State Presidents, and Chapters in States having no State Divisions.
11. Report of the Executive Committee, and action thereon.
12. Report of the Finance Committee, and action thereon.
13. Report of Special Committees, and action thereon.
14. Unfinished Business.
15. New Business.
16. Reading of Communications.
17. Election of Officers.
18. Adjournment.
